Re: Innovation Professional Services Ltd

Innovation have been great from the start.

They presented us with an idea that would save circa £1,000 for each member of staff who received the private fuel benefit.

We were implementing several other cost-reducing measures, but Innovation's solution seemed easy to implement without negatively affecting our staff.

In fact, when they modelled the data we realised that lots of our staff were paying very high levels of tax on the private fuel benefit – these staff were delighted when they received a windfall payment at the end of the first year!

I am naturally risk averse and cautious with any new supplier, but after meeting John it gave us the confidence to move forward quickly.

We are nearly two years in – Innovation have done everything they said they would do and more.

I couldn't speak more highly of them.
